No Meningitis Ships Will Be Docked Here

Afflicted Passengers, If Any, Must Be Landed at William Head

City and Dominion Quarantine Officials Combine to Enforce Embargo

Effective measures to stop the landing of any trans-Pacific passengers on incoming liners suffering from spinal meningitis or those subjected to contacts to possible carriers of the dread disease, were rounded out today in a conference between Dr. Arthur G. Price, City Health Officer, and the Dominion quarantine officers at William Head.

As a result of the embargo no vessel carrying passengers afflicted with disease will be given pratique until she has landed all those so suffering, or even under suspicion of being affected, at the Quarantine Station at William Head. Without a clean bill of health no vessel will be permitted to dock at Victoria.

TO LAND VICTIMS

This may lead to the establishment of a meningitis camp at William Head. A number of cases of the dread disease were said to have been found on two of the President liners recently passing through the port, and a third liner, due to dock here on Monday, the President Jackson is being watched for a possible continuation of the scourge. Philippines have been the worst sufferers, according to press dispatches from Honolulu and the Orient, and it is among these classes that victims of the disease have been removed from recent vessels making the trans-Pacific crossing. While the embargo is invoked in connection with the known movement of Filipinos, it will apply equally to all lines and all vessels due to dock at Victoria from foreign ports in Asiatic waters.

NO FRESH OUTBREAK

Similar measures are being taken at Seattle, where Dr. E. T. Hanley, City Health Officer of the Sound City, has ordered a complete embargo against all vessels without a clean bill of health. Docking privileges will be withheld until every assurance of the absence of the disease on board has been given, it is stated. So far agents have

Mexican Naval Leaders Tried

Half Dozen Must Explain the Movements of Fleet During Uprising

Mexico City, March 22.—Six of the highest officers of the Mexican navy were placed in the Santiago prison here today to await a court-martial hearing in connection with their handling of the Atlantic fleet during the revolt at Vera Cruz.

The six men held are Commodore Jose Maria Miranda, Theodore Magarinos and Arturo Lapham, Capt. R. Maguire of the gunboat Anahuac, Capt. A. Acevedo of the Naval Academy at Vera Cruz and Capt. A. Cuellas of the gunboat Agua Prieta.

POSITION OF HERNANDEZ

El Universal in a late edition yesterday, said that Hernandez, supreme commander of the fleet, was among those arrested. Several days after the occupation of Vera Cruz, the fleet, steamed out of the harbor and sailed to Tampico, where Commodore Hernandez said he had been forced to recognize the rebel leader, Gen. J. M. Aguirre (since executed), in order to get his fleet out of the port, and he insisted he had proclaimed his loyalty to the Government at the first opportunity.

The arrests of the men were made on the personal order of General Calles, Minister of War.

British Business Leaders Next Week Will Visit Russia

London, March 22 (Canadian Press Cable).—Nearly 200 British firms are represented in the trade delegation of almost 100 persons which will leave London for Moscow next Monday. This comprises the largest delegation of its kind that ever left England. It is fully representative of British industry.

The travelers plan to investigate the openings in Russia for their special industries and will meet the authorities in Moscow to discuss the possibility of trade with Russia would be impossible.

The British Government has in no way inspired the visit and assumes no responsibility for it, but is not hostile to the idea.

Big Financial Post Goes To Mainlander

J. A. Craig, Who Has Been With Canadian Bakeries, New Comptroller-General

Salary For Position Was Increased to $8,000 at Recent Session

J. A. Craig, formerly secretary-treasurer of Canadian Bakeries, Limited, Vancouver, (Shelly's), has been named Comptroller-General of British Columbia to take the place of A. N. Mount, the present comptroller-general, who has resigned from the position, and asked to be relieved of his duties as soon as possible, it became known today.

Mr. Craig is in Victoria now to take over his duties. The position from which Mr. Mount sought to be relieved several months ago, was the subject of discussion in the Legislature when Mr. Shelly brought in a bill providing for the salary of the comptroller-general to be increased to $8,000.

Opposition members directly challenged that Mr. Shelly planned to install an official of Canadian Bakeries in the position and placed a direct question to him. Mr. Shelly refused to confirm or deny the question, saying that he had offered the appointment to no one.

With the increase of salary criticized, Mr. Shelly stated that the maximum was being fixed at $8,000, but, pressed on the point, said the new appointee would start at $7,500.

The increase now makes the salary of comptroller-general equal, on attaining the post, to that of a Minister of the Crown with the increase bringing it beyond that received by the Finance Minister himself.

More Arrests Made In India

Thirty-one at Bareilly Added to Group of Extremists in Jail

Bareilly, United Provinces, India, March 22 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—Thirty-one persons were arrested here yesterday in connection with what is described as the Indian "conspiracy against the King."

Those arrested were mainly communists and labor leaders. It is understood they are charged with forming parties and unions in India to destroy the existing sovereignty and replace it with the Soviet type of republic as existing in Russia.

EDITH IN COMMONS

London, March 22 (Canadian Press Cable).—Suggestions that the British Government had instigated the arrests of communists carried out in India by the India Office was belied by recent activities of Scotland Yard in connection with the communists in England were made by numerous members in the Commons yesterday.

E. Thurtle, Labor, Shoreditch, requested a statement on the arrests in India.

Lord Winterston, Under-Secretary for India, denied the persons had been arrested because they were communists and said the arrested persons had been charged by the appropriate authorities with conspiracy to deprive the King of sovereignty in India.

Below are seen the bodies of the rioters on the Kalbadevi Road, where much of the fighting took place.

Foch Funeral Bond Stealing Will Bring Big Charge Fails Crowd to Paris In Vancouver

Suggestion Body Be Buried Under Arc de Triomphe Is Considered Expected Accusation Against George F. Scollard Will Be Withdrawn

Vancouver, March 22.—A charge against George F. Scollard, Victoria landowner, of the theft of $190,000 worth of bonds, laid against him two weeks ago by his former wife, Sara E. Smith of Bellingham, Wash., may be withdrawn to-morrow, it was indicated in police court here this morning.

A subsidiary charge of the theft of jewelry valued at nearly $15,000 which was included in the information laid by the former Mrs. Scollard, would still remain, it was stated.

"I am satisfied we shall be unable to proceed with the bond theft charge," declared Prosecutor William McKay when the case was brought before Magistrate H. C. Shaw this morning. He intimated further information had been laid before him which showed the theft of bonds could not be proved.

BAIL REDUCED

Mr. McKay agreed to a reduction of bail bonds for Scollard, upon the request of Stuart Henderson of Victoria, who represented the accused. The bail was reduced from $20,000 to $3,000 in the case of Scollard, and from $3,000 to $1,000 in the case of "Ole" Collins, a material witness and Scollard's Victoria housekeeper.

Mr. Henderson asked permission to lay before the court certain papers he had, which he said showed Scollard had purchased the alleged stolen bonds from Mrs. Scollard. Mr. Henderson stated he would seek the release of the bonds which were held by the police.

HEARING IN WASHINGTON

The papers, Mr. Henderson stated, related to court actions in the State of Washington which followed charges of theft laid against Scollard by his wife two years ago.

At that time Scollard was accused of stealing $800,000. The magistrate stated he would hear Mr. Henderson's plea to-morrow morning. The official hearing of the charge against Scollard will be heard April 3.

Civil Service Commissioner Is Dismissed

Arthur H. Cox Gets Notice to Leave and No Reasons Are Given

Won Reputation For Efficiency in Position He Filled For Three Years

Predictions of Government axe swinging as soon as the session of the Legislature ended were substantiated today by the announcement that notice to terminate his services at the end of this month had been given to Arthur H. Cox, Civil Service Commissioner. He also administered the Superannuation Act.

Mr. Cox was verbally notified the day after the session closed and officially notified today. No reason for his dismissal is given. A. N. Baker, chief clerk in the department, has taken over the duties, but it is thought this is only until a new appointee is found.

A young man of thirty-six who had an excellent record as a business executive before he entered the service in May, 1916, succeeding W. H. Macdonald, Mr. Cox had in his three years as Civil Service Commissioner won a reputation for conscientious and efficient attention to his duties. His dismissal brought expression of regret throughout the service today.

BUILT UP SUPERANNUATION ACT

While he was commissioner he brought about an increase in the maximum salary for all grades in the service. He was instrumental in having amendments made to the Superannuation Act so that the widow of a person with fifteen years service with the Government secured a life allowance, instead of the refund only of contributions the worker had made. He was also instrumental in having the mandatory clause placed in the act which enabled city and municipal employees to obtain the benefits of the act. When he took over his duties in 1916 there were but approximately 700 contributors to the superannuation fund. There are now approximately 5,000.

SON OF PIONEER

He must have a host of friends in the civil service as he had done so: twenty-one years residence in Victoria before he entered the service. He was with Weiler Bros. for seventeen years, in an executive position for most of the time, and his business experience was added to later with Cassidy Limited. He is the son of a pioneer sealer who was born in Yukon in 1858. He is well known in connection with many organizations, being first secretary of the Native Sons of Canada and a past president of the Pacific Club. He is popular in athletic circles, having for many years been secretary of the James Bay Athletic Association, and the North Pacific Association of Amateur Golfers.

Steel Plant In Vancouver Now Planned

Dominion Bridge Co. Announces Purchase of Land in Terminal City

Vancouver, March 22.—Construction of the first unit of a modern structural steel fabricating plant will be undertaken in the near future by the Dominion Bridge Company Limited, which this morning announced the purchase of a large block of property adjoining the Great Northern Railway and B.C. Electric Railway track near Boundary Road.

According to A. S. Gentile, manager of the Pacific Coast division and W. Warren, vice-president and general manager of the company, who is in Vancouver on his annual inspection tour, the property had been under option since December and under consideration for the last nine months.

ROOM TO GROW

The property comprises forty acres and will permit the gradual development of a large plant which will keep pace with the increase in the volume of construction on the Pacific Coast. In a statement issued by Mr. Gentile this morning, it was pointed out that the steps had been taken after careful consideration and conferences and discussion with Vancouver directors of the company, W. J. Blake Wilson and W. C. Murray.

Two years ago the Dominion Bridge Company Limited purchased from the B.C. Electric Railway Company a block of land on False Creek adjoining the Cambie Street yards. This was to be the first of a series of steps to meet the need engendered by the development of construction on the Pacific Coast.

FAITH IN FUTURE

That site was considered to be sufficient to meet the requirements of the company for at least five years. The capacity of the False Creek plant is rapidly being reached, it is stated, but the company's executive feels its faith in the future has been justified and so has taken this further step.

TRAIN ENGINEER IS TO TESTIFY

Inquest on Deaths at Dro-court, Ontario, to Be Held Next Monday

Parry Sound, Ont., March 22.—All the train orders issued by the Canadian National Railways concerning the meeting and passing of trains No. 3 and 4, which crashed head-on at Dro-court, forty miles northwest of here, early Wednesday morning, will be in the hands of Crown Attorney Haight when the inquest on the deaths of four identified, dead is resumed next Monday.

In the meantime authorities have not questioned Engineer Vernon Alexander of Train No. 3, westbound, which an official statement by railway officials ran past a siding where it was to have awaited the eastbound train.

Alexander escaped almost unhurt from the tragedy, which took seven lives.

NUMBER MISSING

Four of the bodies have been identified, eight persons are missing and believed dead, and five others are believed to have been cremated when the collision car of Train No. 3, in which most of the deaths occurred, caught fire.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will provide counsel for Alexander, who is in bed threatened with a nervous breakdown.

Engineer Paul Gauvreau, of No. 4 train, bound for Toronto, is suffering with fractures of the legs and body bruises.

Aintree, Eng., March 22

Gregalach, owned by Mrs. M. A. Gemmell, won the classic Grand National Steeplechase here today. Easter Hero, owned by J. H. Whitney, of the United States, was second in the gruelling contest, and Richmond II, owned by R. McAlpine, finished third.

Gregalach, which started at 100 to 1, was the winner by six lengths.

The record field of sixty-six divided rapidly as the horses swept around the second circuit of the course.

Only ten horses completed the course.

Easter Hero led throughout until the second fence from home, when Gregalach forged to the front.

The difficult hazard on which Easter Hero lost his chance to win the world's greatest steeplechase feature and the $60,000 to $75,000 that goes with it, is a sharp ditch and fence, a tough enough barrier to test the spirit even of a horse that is just starting instead of almost finishing the four and one-half mile test. Easter Hero was equal to the occasion, but his fast-traveling rival cleared the jump more easily and swooped on over the final water jump to victory.

It was the second straight year in which the winner of the Grand National was ridden by a hand-to-hand, almost totally neglected by the experts. Last year it was Tippecary Tin which won at the same odds, after Billy Barton had fallen at the last jump while in the lead and all the other entries had fallen by the wayside.

Gregalach, by My Prince from St Germain, was ridden by Everett.

Easter Hero had been the favorite at 9 to 1 and was ridden by J. Maloney. The odds on Richmond II, which finished third, were 40 to 1. Scott was the rider.

According to the report, that night old Tarasoff, under a deep wave in his foot, threw him into the pit, apparently to keep him there until the return of Train No. 3, westbound, which the father died and villagers, chasing upon the living grave, extricated the worn and wrinkled man, who, although only twenty-nine years of age, had snow-white hair. He was placed in a hospital.

Storm Breaks Over Greater Victoria Plan

Councillor Paterson Reluctant Saanich Delegate to Parley

Kiwanis Club's Conference Plan Dubbed "Waste of Time"

"A waste of time, the whole thing is a lot of bunk," declared Councillor Paterson of Ward Two last night, when the Saanich council received an invitation from the Kiwanis Club to name delegates to a Greater Victoria committee. Councillor Eden of Ward Seven, asked for his opinion, said "Councillor Paterson has expressed my views."

Councillor Watson said he was prepared to take part in any conference designed to discover useful information.

Councillor Oldfield said conditions had greatly changed in recent years, and favored representation of Saanich by the councillors from the urban wards as most interested.

Councillor Paterson protested that Saanich was not prepared to enter any Greater Victoria scheme for years to come. He feared the representation of the council, if appointed, would find themselves in an embarrassing position.

Councillor Watson demurred, "We should not shut the door against anything which may prove of advantage."

OPPOSITION SURE

Reeve Crouch said: "I am absolutely certain there is not the slightest chance of Wards Two and Seven going into a Greater Victoria."

Councillor Eden charged Councillor Watson with having gone on record, years ago, as willing to give the inner wards to Victoria. Councillor Watson retorted, "If we had Saanich would not be in the position it finds itself today," and Councillor Eden remarked that the urban wards would have been in a serious position had Councillor Watson's views been given effect.

Councillor Hagan considered adoption of the inner wards by Victoria would eliminate many problems. Sewerage would be attained for the urban areas automatically, the debt of $95,000 for trunk sewerage would disappear, high school problems would be settled at once and the urban wards would find their status much improved as a part of Victoria.

MORE SECESSION

Reeve Crouch believed that Greater Victoria, when created, would include Ward Three and part of Ward One. Councillor Watson vigorously denied this view and also intimated that, if secession is granted, Wards Four and Six, Ward Three would promptly take steps for disincorporation from the municipality. He warned the council that refusal to be represented would be a serious mistake.

Councillor Oldfield could not see how any delegate could commit the council to the disadvantage of Saanich, and moved that Councillor Watson and Clegg be delegates.

PUSHED INTO CITY

Reeve Crouch said certain councillors would gladly push Wards Two and Seven into the city, and if the council was represented on the Greater Victoria committee, it should be by delegates in sympathy with Wards Two and Seven.

Councillor Borden said the committee could do nothing more than discuss some scheme acceptable to all concerned, for erection of a Greater Victoria.

Councillor Eden flatly refused to serve, and Councillor Paterson said he disliked being placed in a position which might react against him with the voters of Ward Two. "This scheme is starting exactly the same way as that organized by the late A. E. Todd, and is most insidious," he declared.

Councillor Paterson finally agreed to act as delegate for one meeting only, "and I'll come back here with a report for you, all right," he said.

CHIP ON SHOULDER

Councillor Hagan protested, "You are going there with a chip on your shoulder," and Councillor Paterson retorted, "I'll bet you one dollar that, if Greater Victoria comes into being, the line will be drawn no nearer the city than Royal Oak."

Councillor Paterson was then appointed, but no municipal official was named. Reeve Crouch remarking, "There is no use requiring the clerk to waste his time."

At the suggestion of the Reeve the municipal staff will "gladly" supply the Greater Victoria committee with any information they may desire.

114 Deaths In Theatre Fire

Disaster in Village in Russia Is Investigated; Operator Intoxicated

Moscow, March 22.—Officials are carrying out an investigation of the fire in a wooden motion picture theatre that caused the deaths of 114 men, women and children in the village of Igolniko, Vladimir Province, 600 kilometres northeast of Moscow. The film caught fire and the flames spread rapidly through the frail structure, which had only one exit.

In addition to those killed eleven were severely injured and six slightly hurt.

Because so many of the victims were parents, the education department has taken steps to care for the orphans. The state executive appropriated 15,000 rubles for the bereaved families and will adopt further relief.

First reports said the fire was caused by the carelessness of the projector operator, who was intoxicated. The fire companies were powerless when they reached the scene because the building already was nearly consumed.

BRITISH LEADERS ARE TO ATTEND FOCH FUNERAL

Forces to Be Represented at Service in Paris; King Sends Message

London, March 22.—King George, himself recently successful in a hard struggle against disease, yesterday sent a message of admiration for the late Marshal Foch and of condolence to the French nation to President Doumergue.

The War Office last night announced a memorial service for the former generalissimo of the Allied armies to be held Saturday morning in Westminster Cathedral.

The Foreign Office officially announced that Prince George would represent King George at the funeral in Paris next Tuesday.

TO REPRESENT FORCES

The British Army will be officially represented at the funeral by Field Marshal Lord Plumer, commander of the British Second Army in 1918, and Field Marshal Sir George Milne, chief of the British General Staff since 1926.

A field officer, an officer and fifty men and the regimental band will be provided by the Brigade of Guards.

Admiral of the Fleet Lord Webster Wemyss will represent the Navy; Vice-Admiral Haggard, the Board of Admiralty; and Air Marshal Trenchard, the Royal Air Force.

Field Marshals Lord Allenby and Lord Methuen have expressed a wish to attend the funeral.

RECONCILIATION EXPECTED

Paris, March 22.—A reconciliation between two old-time political foes may be one result of the death of Marshal Foch.

Premier Raymond Poincare has written a special personal letter to former Premier Georges Clemenceau inviting him to be a guest of the Government in the official cortege at the funeral.

The two statesmen embraced one another at the entry into Strasbourg in 1918, but have not met nor spoken since.

The war-time political leader is expected to depart from his traditional avoidance of public appearance because of his unbounded admiration for the late marshal.

Tribute Is Paid By Canadian Parliament To Memory Of Foch

Ottawa, March 22.—Tributes to the memory of Field Marshal Foch were paid in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Premier King declared Canada, in expressing her sympathy with France, was giving expression as well to a world loss in which the Dominion shared.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, and John Evans, Progressive, associated themselves and their supporters with the sentiments expressed by the Prime Minister on the death of the marshal.

J. W. Burr Dies At Ashcroft, B.C.

Ashcroft, B.C., March 22.—Another link with pioneer days in the Yale district was severed by the death of J. W. Burr here.

Born in Ireland on July 29, 1851, he was brought to Canada at the age of two years. After spending some years in the East he came to British Columbia by way of Cape Horn, landing at Victoria May 24, 1864. He moved to Yale and for several years was employed by the Hudson's Bay Company at that point. He also engaged in the harness making business at Spence's bridge for some years. He joined the police force at Yale during the construction of the C.P.R., and later was appointed chief of police for the Yale district, which in those days embraced a far wider area than now. While stationed at Yale he was also chief of the Yale fire brigade and later was chief at Ashcroft.

Mr. Burr then made his headquarters at Ashcroft, until he retired in 1914.

He married Rose Clotilda Loring of Lytton, B.C., on May 25, 1894.

Weekly sailings to Europe from May 3 from Montreal (and Quebec).

GRAIN INQUIRY IS MADE WIDER

He pointed out, however, that grain mixing had been started with the consent of the farmers, and that it had been legalized. His own view was that the Canadian grain farmers would never regain their former position should the mixing of grains be abolished. But the farmers themselves had to become convinced mixing was an evil. The prairie farmers, however, might be "dead sure" the buyers of wheat judged the grain by the run of the cargo. "We do not fool those who buy our grain, because we call it by some name," said Mr. Dunning.

He suggested members approach these matters with respect to grain in a non-partisan spirit. In this way much more constructive work could be done for the people of the prairies than by attempting to play politics with the question.

DUTIES PERFORMED

Throughout the debate, said Mr. Dunning, no one had suggested the Minister of Trade and Commerce had failed in his duty in any respect in the administration of the Grain Act. In fact, many speakers had complimented him on the manner in which he had performed his duties. Any charges of failure on the part of the Minister had come along from the Conservative leader, Mr. Bennett, who had been the only one to suggest there was any competition among members of the Cabinet for the right to administer the Grain Act, and Mr. Dunning denied there was any such competition.

When a public officer was charged with any act he had a right to be heard in his own defence. But whatever cause might be assigned for the requests that the Board of Grain Commissioners be dismissed, he had heard no charge of dishonesty, no charge of inefficiency, but rather a suggestion of a lack of judgment in one particular case.

MALCOLM SPEAKS

Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, denied absolutely he had ever tried to shift any of the responsibility which he should accept. He defended the actions of the grain commissioners and insisted that, in connection with the much discussed hybrid ticket, they had acted on the advice of the Department of Justice.

Up to the present time not one single charge against the honor of the board had been made in the House. Mr. Malcolm did not think anything wrong could be found with the board except that it might have exercised poor judgment in permitting the use of the ticket in question.

PERMITTED BY PARLIAMENT

Reference had been made to the mixing of grain, Mr. Malcolm said. Consistent complaints had been made, but the board could not be blamed in this regard when Parliament itself had permitted the mixing. The criticism and the evils complained of were matters for which the board was not responsible. Mr. Malcolm predicted that when the whole matter was considered by the committee on agriculture, "many of the remarks made in the House will fall by the wayside."

He reiterated he would take full ministerial responsibility and would at no time hide behind the grain board.

BENNETT'S VIEWS

Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, gave it as his view that the Board of Grain Commissioners should be investigated by a tribunal set up by the Government rather than a committee of Parliament.

Mr. Bennett said he was not going to discuss the responsibility of the Board of Grain Commissioners, for it must have a chance to be heard, but he believed it must be apparent that any agreement between the farmers and the board was a matter of convenience and not a matter of principle. He reiterated he would take full ministerial responsibility and would at no time hide behind the grain board.

DONNELLY SPEAKS

Dr. T. F. Donnelly, Liberal, Willow Bunch, Sask., said that last year the grain inspectors had raised the standards. Although on October 9 the standards board had lowered the first mark by one half grade, each standard was still one grade higher than the year before. Eventually British buyers recognized the higher quality of the standards, but in the meantime all the wheat had passed into the hands of the grain trade, which received the higher prices. Dr. Donnelly estimated the loss to the farmers as between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000.

The farmers demanded, Dr. Donnelly continued, that mixing at private terminals should be eliminated and that terminals at the head of Great Lakes should become public terminals; that there should be a proper administration of the Grain Act, and that diversion from Winnipeg, Saskatoon and other centres should be prevented.

CARMICHAEL'S VIEWS

A. M. Carmichael, Progressive, Kindersley, Sask., said that members of the Board of Grain Commissioners were well paid and fairly well qualified, yet he believed they had "failed to properly administer the act." The public had lost confidence in the board. Mr. Carmichael advocated the board should be "quietly but very definitely relieved of their duties and another board of five members appointed in their places."

Malcolm McLean, Liberal, Melfort, declared the farmers believed the Trade and Commerce Department to be the logical one for marketing their crop, but the Agricultural Department was the one to which they looked for grading.

RESOLUTIONS REPORTED

W. R. Panaher, Progressive, Last Mountain, Sask., said he had received resolutions that day from various farmer organizations and from the Canadian Grains Association, asking for dismissal of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

W. T. Lucas, U.P.A., Camrose, advocated administration of the Canada Grain Act be placed under the Department of Agriculture. Mixing was inspired by a desire on the part of the elevator superintendents to prevent shortage in grades.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative, Vancouver Centre, said overages should not be allowed. The shippers should get the full value of the grain instead of there being an arbitrary dockage.

Conservative Wins In Bath, England

Bath, England, March 22.—The Conservatives won the Bath by-election in Bath yesterday. Beatrice Hamilton, Government candidate, was elected with 11,171 votes; C. R. Daniels, Liberal, received 7,325 votes, and G. C. Desmond, Labor, 6,359.

MINE STOCK TAX PLAN DISCUSSED

Nelson, B.C., March 22.—From Ottawa came word that the West Kootenay member, W. K. Esling, yesterday had statements from all members of the Conservative opposition that they were united in protesting against the proposed "tax" on low-priced mine shares, while it was stated the United Farmers would join them because of the effect they expected the proposed tax to have on Alberta oil shares.

Those opposing the new tax proposal hope the Government will alter the plan before it comes up for a vote in the Commons.

Mr. Esling has emphasized protests from various mine operators and boards of trade in the Kootenay district.

BROKEN PLEDGES

THE GOVERNMENT AGAIN HAS broken the pledge given by the Premier that there would be no dismissals from the provincial public service for purely political partisan reasons, and that no officials needed to fear for their jobs as long as they did their work efficiently and honestly. This time the victim is Arthur Cox, who was appointed Civil Service Commissioner by the former Government a year or so ago.

Mr. Cox was an excellent officer. He was conscientious, capable, loyal and industrious. He was one of the most popular officials in the Parliament Buildings and the regard felt for him throughout the city, in which he was born and has lived all his life.

Apart from the question of moral principle involved in the cynical repudiation of solemn pledges, there is something contemptibly small in this business of hounding people out of the public service merely because they were appointed by the former Government. The spectacle of the new Government—some of whose members have recently made large fortunes on the stock market—depriving public servants of their modest means of livelihood is disgusting, and calculated to lower the standard of public life.

The Premier cannot escape responsibility for this ruthless disregard of the promise regarding the public service he made to the electors on behalf of the Government of which he is the head. It was his duty to see that these promises were kept, even to the point of getting rid of any Minister who was not sufficiently loyal to him to be bound by them. That pledge is violated every time some employee is dismissed because he happened to have been appointed by the former Government, and the violation is made worse when it is done merely to provide a job for some worker of his own party.

We wonder how the Attorney-General, who often prides himself upon his observance of the rules of cricket in his public life, manages to square such dismissals as those of Judge MacGill and Mr. Cox with these high-sounding ethics of sportsmanship. What kind of a report on this petty, unfair business will the Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe make to Canon Hinchliffe, if they are still on speaking terms?

Dismissing public servants in this way is not a sign of strength. It is an indication of weakness, which has an ominous significance. It implies an abject surrender to the exigencies of machine politics. If the Government shows so much weakness in this respect, what measure of strength can be expected from it when powerful interests make upon it demands which would seriously imperil the public interest? If Ministers are small enough to dismiss modest wage earners in the public service out of political prejudice, motives of revenge or to make jobs for their own supporters, how big are they likely to be when they are confronted with applications for special privileges at the public expense by influential concession hunters?

It is hardly necessary to comment upon the contempt for public opinion which is being shown by the Government's disregard of its public pledges. Apparently the new Administration does not care what the public thinks; it seems to be quite ready to risk the loss of the public respect by showing that it has no respect for its own pledges, and by making defenceless civil servants the targets of its political animus or the pawns in a petty party game it should be too big to play. It is either operating in the naive belief that the public has a short memory and will forget its derelictions in a very brief time, or it has chosen as its composite slogan: "A short life and a merry one to and perdition with the public." It is wrong on both counts.

BRITISH BYELECTIONS

IN FIVE CONSTITUENCIES FORMERLY represented by Conservatives in the British House of Commons byelections have been held this week. The Government has retained two with heavily-reduced majorities; the Liberal Party has captured two of them and the Labor Party one. The net loss to Mr. Baldwin is three seats.

The first of this series of five contests was fought in the East Toxteth division of Liverpool on Tuesday, and while the Government candidate retained the seat, the combined Liberal-Labor vote revealed an anti-Government plurality of 3,079 votes, whereas in the general election of 1924 the Conservative plurality in a similar three-cornered contest was no less than 5,356. Thus there was a turnover here of more than eight thousand votes.

The second contest was in the Eddisbury division of Cheshire, which returned a Liberal with a majority of 1,292, this being only the second time the constituency has wavered in its allegiance to the Conservative cause in nearly forty years, the previous occasion being in 1906 when the nation so completely threw out the tariff reform policy which the late Joseph Chamberlain had introduced.

Three contests took place yesterday. Bath remained true to its traditional Conservatism; but here again a three-cornered contest revealed a division of votes drifting vastly from the result in 1924. C. W. Baillie-Hamilton, Conservative, headed the poll with 11,171; C. R. Daniels, Liberal, 7,225, and G. C. Desmond, Labor, 6,359—an anti-Government plurality of 2,413 votes. In the general election of 1924 the Conservative polled 16,067, the Liberal 8,800 and the Laborite 3,914, or a Conservative plurality over all of 3,353 votes.

The Northern division of Lanark turned its allegiance from the Government—whose candidate it elected in 1924 with a majority of more than 2,000—and elected Miss J. Lee, Labor's representative, with a vote of 15,711, while the Conservative, Lord Scone, polled 9,133, and the Liberal, Mrs. E. B. Mitchell, polled 3,488. It thus will be seen here that the Government candidate's vote yesterday was more than 4,500 less than it was on the last occasion, the Laborite's total advancing from 11,852 in 1924 to 15,711 on this occasion. No Liberal entered the lists in this riding at the last general election.

The Holland-with-Boston division of Lincolnshire since 1918 has been won three times by Labor, and twice by a Conservative; but yesterday, in a four-cornered contest, J. Lindell won the seat for the Liberal Party, his vote being 13,000, with G. R. White, Labor, polling 9,194; F. J. Vandenberg, Conservative, 8,257; and F. W. Dennis, Independent, 3,541.

What the results of these five byelections portend we are not in a position to judge. The striking feature about two of them, however, is that the Government failed to retain seats in a three-cornered and four-cornered contest respectively, a division of votes between two or more opposition candidates generally giving the advantage to the party in office.

A comparison of the votes polled by the Conservative candidates in these five contests and in 1924 reveals a loss of 25,367, the figures in 1924 being 72,551 and 47,184 respectively. The total loss of votes which the Government's candidates have sustained in 1924, moreover, now is something like 130,000.

OUR POPULATION

HON. H. H. STEVENS HAS BEEN telling the House of Commons that there has been a shrinkage of Canada's population since 1921 of something like 1,200,000. He has guessed at the present population of the country in order to arrive at his figure. No doubt he considers that is good enough to enable him to blame the King Government.

This is interesting because Mr. Stevens and his followers have admitted that the country is prosperous. In other words, we may take it he would argue that the more prosperous a country is the less people it has. What Mr. Stevens did not tell the House of Commons, however, was what happened to the 1,380,000 who left the country between 1912 and 1921, when the Government of which he was a supporter was in office. If Mr. Stevens knew that that exodus was taking place, it was his duty to call attention to it and prescribe some remedy; but there is no record of his having done so. If he did not know what was going on, he was poorly informed on a matter of grave national concern.

It is about time some of our public men talked a little more about Canada and the opportunities which await our own people and the newcomers, and less about other countries. If there is to be free advertising, let this Dominion have the advantage of it. In the meantime, however, we would direct the attention of the Vancouver member to some views to which Sir Robert Borden, who once was Mr. Stevens's leader, gave expression at the recent annual meeting of the Crown Life Insurance Company, of which the former Premier is president. He said:

"The tendency which creates such emigration is characteristic of almost every country. Our people do not emigrate to another country because they are dissatisfied with our institutions or our system of government. They resort to large centres of population and to great industrial centres (whether at home or abroad) for the purpose of wider and fuller opportunities of employment. Within the United States migration to urban areas is equally conspicuous and arises from like causes."

The Toronto Star hits the nail on the head when it says that the village mechanic who is offered a better job in Detroit than he is offered in Toronto, or who believes that in half a dozen United States cities he can find a better job than he is likely to find in one Canadian city, feels that he ought to go there and see what he can do. It is the same old story; the young, when they move, find a strange attraction in the distant places. A good deal of the movement back and forth across the border has its origin in considerations far removed from those to which politicians often refer.

The announcement that licenses for trap fishing will be allowed in British Columbia waters has been received with the greatest satisfaction in this city. It is regarded as especially important to Victoria and the southern part of Vancouver Island.

A by-law authorizing the City Council to borrow $40,000 for the erection of a new school in Victoria West and other school improvements were introduced by Alderman Vincent at last night's meeting of the municipal board.

MORE COURTS, MORE DIVORCES

The Toronto Globe

The House of Commons did the right thing when it rejected the Senate bill to establish divorce courts in Ontario. The fact that the Ontario members voted two to one against the proposal is a telling answer to those who claimed that this province is behind the demand for the change.

No one will deny that there are some petty anomalies under the present system. The Senate, for instance, is empowered to grant divorce, but it can make no provision for the support of the wronged wives and deserted children. But the way to redress that injustice—which is incidentally the result of the divorce itself—is obviously not to make divorces more numerous. Argue as we may, there is no escaping the fact that the net effect of the establishment of more divorce courts would be the greivous and the undermining of more of the foundation of a Christian State.

AN ENLIGHTENED MINISTER

The Cowichan Leader

In this issue we have pleasure in presenting a portrait of the Hon. Mr. D. H. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, and a message from him concerning Dominion Income Tax.

Mr. Euler is the Minister concerned with customs. We think that he is not well advised if he allows the Duncan sub-port to be closed, for it would mean a very damaging blow to the district and would mean untold inconvenience to our expanding industry and to a very large section of our residents.

Eastern minds do not always realize that the West and the Coast have very strong links with the Motherland. Hundreds of good Canadian citizens in Gower have cause to use the Duncan customs office frequently during the year. Apart from this customs matter we have nothing but praise for Mr. Euler, for he adopted a policy which the press of British Columbia have been trying for years to knock into the heads of the Provincial Government. He is using newspaper advertising to assist taxpayers to comply with the requirements of the Dominion Income Tax. You may read the details in this issue.

We are told that the officials of the income tax department fully appreciate the trouble required in making out these forms, but are doing everything in their power to facilitate matters by reminding the public in plenty of time respecting the demands of the law.

Also to remind the public that the total collections under the Income Tax Act for last year are some millions ahead of the year before in spite of a ten per cent reduction in the tax.

Mr. Euler himself attributes this increased collection to three things. They are the more efficient methods of collection; the increased prosperity of the country; and advertising.

MR. DEAN'S RECOMMENDATION

To the Editor:—Your correspondent Mr. A. Hamilton is not quite correct in his criticisms of the English taxation system.

The taxation of houses in municipalities is based upon the rental and the amount levied—used to be on four-fifths of the actual rent received. Thus a house rented at $20 per annum was taxed on $16, the number of pence on each item being set down.

If the rent was increased the taxes rose with it, whether they were paid by the owner or tenant, which was mostly done, except in some cases where they got out of reduction. Unoccupied property was exempt, except sewer rate, which the owner had to pay. There was no friction over valuations or excessive assessments, this differing widely from the system in force here which causes endless trouble, and many folks like cutting the city lot into slices and charging each slice on a different class of owner, and then putting the slices together and totalling up all of which may be elaborate, but is not beneficial.

The system we have in practice here allows any municipality that is short of money to value every parcel of land and most of the buildings for more than their actual value. I know of cases here where the owners are willing to sell for less than half of the valuation set upon their property by city assessors. Can anyone suggest that price? This means that in reality they are paying eighty-two mills on every dollar their property is worth, and not the forty-one as the city calls it. This is the beauty of allowing false valuations to stand. Any business man trying such dodges would go into jail, and rightly so.

In England they have a very much better system of recovering taxes in arrears. I myself once lived in a house where the owner had failed to make some payments due for paying. After some time—the next day after the money became due—a notice was served on the tenants to pay the rents to the city.

After that a piece of property for two years' taxes at an exorbitant valuation as this city does and they got what they were entitled to get and no more.

The tax sale is an abomination at any time. It is made worse by false and exaggerated valuations concerning the property. I have known it done to compel the city valuation to represent a true value of all property? The present system allows them always to guess high enough and practice has made them perfect.

In England if a municipality requires property for a housing scheme or street improvements, it is always done by expropriation proceedings and a fair price allowed, with an added ten per cent for compulsory sale, but there is no great trouble made by selling to the city. I have known some cases of the kind, and neither autos nor palaces were bought out of the proceeds.

After all, it is a little better than the half-baked methods in use here, where such gigantic abuses get into practice.

No comment is necessary on a system that permits a city to acquire other people's property on the terms they get it here.

C. J. BROWN.

WHEN DRUNK? To the Editor:—The case of James Davies being disposed of by the courts, there is a point suggested by the preliminary hearing to which one may now refer.

In the Times report of that hearing, Thomas Burns is made to say, after admitting that certain occupants of the ill-fated auto had "one drink" and "two beers" each, that "everybody in the car was perfectly sober." Less than a week earlier, I heard a public speaker who has for many years made a special study of alcohol say, "When a man drinks a little he is a little drunk." Obviously, the public speaker and the witness cannot both be right. Which is?

The witness seems to have been under a great emotional strain. No doubt he was entirely sincere. But just as certainly he was mistaken; and as long as such notions prevail auto accidents through drink will also obtain. And that anyone could even yet make such self-contradictory assertions is one of the very obvious reasons why an intensive and thorough educational campaign on the nature and effects of alcohol is a very urgent need. Let me public-spirited citizens of the nature of the question of outlawing the drink trade to a vote, until a very complete grounding in the fundamental facts respecting alcohol has been well accomplished, at least among our younger electors and the students of our schools.

It is of course a very long time since the famous Dr. Victor Horsely and his colleagues, to the great delight and encouragement of prohibitionists, moved in the face much doubt and opposition, led off with such statements as "Alcohol has a specific affinity for the highest brain centres." It strikes most directly and fatefully the will—the kingly power—in man that makes for self-control and mechanical control (so extremely important in auto driving); "it hits first, even when taken in the smallest quantity, this highest and most delicate brain-centre, which has taken the longest time and the greatest struggle to build up." On scientific grounds, therefore, our anti-alcohol attack must be on drinking, and not simply on drunkenness. The vast increase in motor traffic recently adds immense importance to these arguments, almost well-attested, findings of science.

The years being few since these facts were first recognized, it is not passing strange, perhaps, that they are not more generally accepted and acted upon, particularly in view of man's well-known dislike for change in either mental outlook or sensuous indulgence. But clearly, and very emphatically, a most earnest and wide-reaching educational drive must be pressed for and put on by convinced abstainers and prohibitionists.

A "minister" is tempted to add more, and warn against the moral risk of the small drinker, due to the fact that "who drinks a little is a little drunk," and that already his highest, best self is being attacked, and the power to hold down anger, self-indulgence, lust and such like—God's supreme gift of power to man—must be steadily and increasingly weakened. But this letter is long enough.

WM. ELLIOTT.

MENTAL HYGIENE

To the Editor:—With reference to several letters you have printed on Mental Hygiene, I would like to state a case I know personally. A friend of mine, a happy young girl, was unfortunate enough to become engaged to a fiance and best friend in one blow. At the time she was teaching in a lonely outpost in a prairie province with the weather thirty degrees below zero. She was walking three miles to school through snow knee deep. She tried to carry on and managed to get up a Christmas tree for the children, and by giving a concert collected $50 for the Red Cross.

She then decided to go away to college and try to forget her great trouble. But through lack of sleep, inability to eat, she broke down completely. The slightest sound made her tremble, and she just wished to die.

So she was sent away to rest her nerves. As soon as the doctors clanged behind her she knew where she was. No words can describe her misery, despair and horror.

On one side of her slept a negress who wailed day and night. On the other was a patient who gave blood curdling yells at various intervals. All around she heard screams and foul language and patients passed her wards and forwards. The head doctor of the institution brought round lady visitors wrapped in furs, who viewed the patients (pointed out) as they were some strange animals at the zoo.

By the time relatives in England were notified and came to rescue her she was practically out of her mind. Her mind was reduced to skin and bone.

AT THE THEATRES

MARGARET MANN HAS FINE ROLE AT DOMINION

Margaret Mann, the little mother, "Mutterchen," of the four noble sons in the title role of "Four Sons," now showing at the Dominion Theatre, gives one of the finest characterizations ever shown on the screen.

At the ripe old age of sixty, Margaret Mann reaches the pinnacle of film fame by her simple and unaffected portrayal of the grief-stricken mother who is left behind, all alone, when her four sons march off to war. Woven into this major theme is the brotherly love of the four sons and their devotion to their mother.

Aside from the many touching scenes of motherly love, the film abounds in youthful romance, the sweethearts of

FAMOUS CLASSIC HERE AT ROYAL

Bransby Williams Will Close Here With Stevenson's "Treasure Island"

Who doesn't thrill at the recollection of hours spent with the story of "Treasure Island," that wonderful tale of adventure in the search for pirate gold? Bransby Williams, celebrated English character-actor, has once again correctly gauged the desires of the public in producing "Treasure Island," in which he will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night and twice to-morrow.

The thrill of those great moments penned by Robert Louis Stevenson is there, and, needless to say, Mr. Williams has again selected a character which puts before his audience his remarkable skill in dramatic interpretation, his ability in make-up, and his power of bringing to life the strongest of fiction characters.

Mr. Williams has given greater evidence than ever of his skill in recent years by portraying such roles as that of Nicholas Sniders. He was long regarded as strictly a translator on the stage of Dickens, but on his present tour he is adding new glory to a long and splendid record. His company is well adapted to handle "Treasure Island," and one of the best plays of the season is promised when it is given here.

IN "TREASURE ISLAND"

BRANSBY WILLIAMS as John Silver in Stevenson's "Treasure Island," which will be the attraction to-night and to-morrow night with a matinee performance to-morrow afternoon at the Royal Victoria Theatre.

PIONEER DIRECTOR HAS ROLE IN FILM AT THE PLAYHOUSE

Oscar Apfel, who plays the role of a German general in "True Heaven," Fox Film, co-starring George O'Brien and Lois Moran, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, is rated as "the survival of the fittest" in film circles. Apfel was a pioneer director, in fact, one of the first feature length productions made on the coast was his "The Squaw Man." Apfel directed that picture with Cecil B. deMille as his assistant.

Recently Apfel was urged by Irving Cummings to return to the screen as a character actor. Cummings visualized him as ideal for the role of "Joe" in "Romance of the Underworld." Fox executives were impressed with his work and he was assigned the present important role in "True Heaven."

MYSTERY STAGE ATTRACTION AT THE COLISEUM

There will be three performances of the Coliseum Theatre's current double bill to-morrow, one in the afternoon and two in the evening. The afternoon performance is timed to commence at 1:30 o'clock, while the Coliseum Players will take the stage in the evening at 7:30 o'clock and again about 10 o'clock, the picture running continuously all evening.

The stage attraction is entitled "The House of Fear," and, as the name of the play suggests, there is plenty of weird and uncanny fun at the theatre this week. The settings of the play are laid in an old and gloomy castle on a

A "Touch" of Indigestion?

The trouble is, that indigestion may not stay "just a touch." It keeps getting worse. More gas. More pain after eating. First thing you know, you have to give up eating the things you like and go on a diet. You can avoid all this by starting in now with a morning glass of ABBEY'S. For ABBEY'S stops little troubles before they become big ones. ABBEY'S rests the stomach; keeps it sweet and clean; helps the whole digestive tract to function in a normal, natural way.

Many people take a glass of ABBEY'S two or three mornings a week, just as a preventative—to keep themselves free of a "touch" of Indigestion or Biliouness—a "touch" of Head-ache or Rheumatism—a "touch" of Liver or Kidney Trouble—or of any of those little ills which—if neglected—so often lead to serious troubles.

Take...

ABBEY'S

The Morning Health Salt

Like the family physician, who has won your confidence by years of precise service, so ABBEY'S has won the goodwill of thousands of users because of its absolute dependability in times of need. Today, as half a century ago, ABBEY'S always comes first to mind when the case of an overtaxed system is indicated.

supposedly haunted island where there are skeletons and ghosts in abundance. The players move about the stage with dark lanterns, speak in hushed voices and generally lend a frightened air to the plot which in itself is gripping and strong. Seemingly impossible things take place right before the eyes of the audience, but before the end of the play everything is unravelled and explained. The cast is also exceptionally well chosen and those having parts this week are Miss Leone Webber, leading lady with the company, "Toby" Leitch, who manages to provide plenty of comedy despite the serious nature of the play, Miss Ada Daniels, Miss Esther Todd, Paul Wallace, Forrest Taylor, Leon Cluff and Lorus Babaley.

On the screen this week, Lionel Barrymore, supported by an excellent cast, is appearing in the feature role of a picture entitled "The Good-bye Kiss."

UNDERWORLD MEN HAVE ROLES IN COLUMBIA STORY

That the atmosphere for the Barbary Coast scenes in "Shanghai" might be as realistic as possible, Ralph Ince, star and director, scoured the underworld sections of Los Angeles for his extras and assembled at the FBO studios what is said to be the roughest and toughest company ever brought together on the lot.

Not satisfied with the group of pseudo-roughs assembled for him by the casting office from the regular list of extras, Ince personally went on a scouting tour along the less-frequented streets of the city and picked from the sidewalks loafers and bums more than 100 of what he considered the most picturesque types to be found.

"Shanghai," which is now running at the Columbia Theatre, has as its background the most colorful waterfront section in the country, San Francisco's Barbary Coast, where a few years ago the scum of the seven seas collected for their debauches and to hide from justice and the law.

OLD CONCERTINA PROVIDES FUN AT THE CAPITOL

Much abused and generally discredited as a musical instrument, the hybrid concertina proves its priceless value in "Captain Lash." Fox Film, starring Victor McLaglen, shown for the first time in this city at the Capitol Theatre yesterday, and immensely pleased audiences.

In the screen story, McLaglen, in the title role of fifth engineer on an

Fire Insurance Concessions Offered Saanich By Underwriters

Lower fire insurance premiums in parts of Saanich were last night tendered the Municipal Council by D. A. S. McGregor, manager of the Vancouver Island branch of the British Columbia Underwriters' Association.

Concessions were dependent upon employment of an additional fireman, with a man on duty continuously, additions to the hose equipment and other improvements to the fire fighting equipment.

Areas now enjoying a basic rate of sixty-five cents per $100 would gain no advantage, but districts now paying a $1 base rate would be accorded substantial concessions.

Residences within 500 feet of a hydrant and west and north of the present sixty-five cent district would be reduced from $1 per $100 to seventy-five cents. Similar concessions would be accorded the district between Quadra Street and Shelbourne Street, where hydrants are located, and a rate of eighty cents would be given a small area east of Shelbourne Street.

WORTH UNKNOWN

No estimate of the saving in premiums to Saanich property owners could be given the Council by Mr. McGregor, who agreed that if the improvements required are made promptly, the concession in rates would be made retroactive to benefit all policies issued since the new year.

Crowds Cheer Royal Bridal Pair At Oslo

Prince Olaf Weds Swedish Princess at Brilliant Ceremony

Duke of York Best Man; Bride in Silver Gown and Diamonds

Oslo, March 22.—The first royal wedding here in 340 years yesterday united the reigning families of Norway and Sweden, neighbors of the Scandinavian Peninsula, who have shared the same king in the past. Crown Prince Olaf of Norway took as his bride Princess Martha of Sweden.

The church was filled to its capacity. For the comparatively simple service, the bright uniforms and decorations of officers and diplomats and the gowns of the ladies brightened the austerity of the edifice.

Prince Olaf wore the uniform of a lieutenant, and he and the Duke of York, his best man, who was in naval dress, wore the highest Norwegian and Swedish decorations. The procession of royals was led by King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway, with Princess Ingeborg of Sweden, mother of the bride. Princess Martha was conducted by her father, Prince Carl.

The princess wore a gown of silver with a long train, and on her head was a new diamond diadem, given by the city of Stockholm. Before the Bishop of Oslo, Johann Lund, began the Lutheran ritual, a chorus of Swedish students sang a farewell to their prince.

As her bridesmaids Princess Martha of Sweden chose her girlhood chums, no matter what their ancestry, rather princesses or daughters of the nobility. The only one of royal blood was her cousin, Princess Ingrid, only daughter of Crown Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden. Among the Norwegians were Miss Ingrid Nansen, daughter of Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, the famous explorer.

Four bridesmaids were Swedish girls and four Norwegian. Besides Princess Ingrid, the Swedish girls were Miss Madeleine Carleson, daughter of Conrad Carleson, head of a Stockholm publishing firm and member of the Riksdag; Miss Elsa Steuch, daughter of Col. A. H. Steuch, and Miss Arhild Ekelund, daughter of the late Gunnar Ekelund. The Norwegian girls, besides Miss Nansen, were Miss Harriet Wedel Jarlsberg, daughter of the Norwegian court marshal; Miss Ragnhild Feartney, daughter of a Norwegian landed proprietor; Miss Young-Feartney, and Miss Elisabeth Broch, daughter of a Norwegian cavalry officer and niece of a former lady-in-waiting to Queen Maud of Norway.

These bridesmaids wore dresses of a light blue tulle, the materials for which had been presented to them by Princess Martha, who had also submitted the designs. The gowns were made at the royal palace in Oslo under the personal supervision of Queen Maud.

The wedding service was broadcast by radio, not only in Norway, but through Swedish stations as well. After the church service there was a banquet at the royal palace to which about 200 people were invited. For the wedding evening the entire city of Oslo was specially illuminated and decorated.

Bill windows along the route from the palace to the church have long since been booked for spectators and for that evening all tables at restaurants and hotel dining-rooms have been reserved. It is several hundred years since there was a royal wedding in Norway; not, in fact, since James I of England married a Norwegian princess, and the Norwegians have flocked to their recently renamed capital by hundreds of thousands.

BEAUTIES AT ROYAL WEDDING

The bridesmaids by no means contributed the least beauty to the wedding of Crown Prince Olaf of Norway, and his pretty bride, Princess Martha of Sweden. In the central panel are Princess Martha, of Sweden, yesterday, the bride, and the Duke of York, his best man, who was in naval dress, wore the highest Norwegian and Swedish decorations. The procession of royals was led by King Haakon and Queen Maud of Norway, with Princess Ingeborg of Sweden, mother of the bride. Princess Martha was conducted by her father, Prince Carl.

Mary Garden Critique Sets Town By Ears

Texas Editor Says Star "So Old She Totters"; Flays Singing

Amarillo, Tex., March 22.—Gene Howe, editor of The Amarillo News-Globe, and often referred to as the storm petrel of journalism in North-west Texas, again is the target of a boycott. Several months ago he wrote editorially that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had the "wellhead" after the latter had passed high over Amarillo without stopping.

MARY GARDEN "TOTTERED"
Members of music clubs in Amarillo are now seeking to repeat the attempt to curtail circulation of The News-Globe. Mr. Howe, under the nom de plume "Erasmus Tack," belittled the performance here of the Chicago Grand Opera Company. He wrote in his personal column of The Globe that it was "terrible that the opera, 'Thais,' presented here Monday night, had been cut shamelessly, that all the stars who had voices saved them and that Mary Garden is so old that she actually tottered."

MUSIC CLUBS UP IN ARMS
Members of the Amarillo music clubs protested and in a public statement said it was "extremely bad taste for a small town critic to attempt an intelligent criticism of such a world-famous organization." Signers of the statement said they intended to write an apology to Mary Garden, Cesare Formichi and Roberto Moranzoni.

Mr. Howe retorted that if they did they would "display and confirm their own ignorance." He said Amarillo, which turned out a $16,000 house, had been "trimmed" and that in Dallas seats sold for $6 while $10 was charged in Amarillo.

He insisted he has seen more opera and knows more about it than any two other persons in Amarillo; that he studied in Berlin and Paris, had been employed on a large daily newspaper as music critic and offered to appear before the local clubs to be examined as to his knowledge.

In another article to-day Mr. Howe refused to "back up," declaring that "not all of those who operate out of Chicago go around holding up people with guns." Some of them, he said, "go about singing grand opera."

Mr. Howe is the son of Ed Howe, noted journalist and editor of The Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

MARY GARDEN REFUSES
Tulsa, Okla., March 22.—Mary Garden, famous singer and member of the Chicago Opera Company, playing here, laughingly remarked that "it's the funniest thing I've ever heard of" when informed of the criticism of her singing and accusations that an opera was "cut" playing in Amarillo, contained in a newspaper article by Gene Howe, Amarillo editor.

"I've never heard of this Howe, but he's so silly," Miss Garden said. She denied that the opera was cut and concluded:

"And you may tell him that when he's tottering I'll still be singing."

ONE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Miss Etta Rubridge, 1029 Pakington Street, lies in St. Joseph's Hospital today with several cuts about the head and an injured shoulder as the result of an automobile accident at the corner of Harriett and Burnside Roads yesterday afternoon.

Miss Rubridge was a passenger in a car driven east on Burnside by H. Dunford, 1029 Pakington Street, which collided with another vehicle driven south on Harriett by George Grayne of Cobble Hill. Both cars were badly damaged.

Injuries to Miss Rubridge resulted mostly from flying glass. She is attended by Dr. P. A. Coulsland.

Those present were advised to read "Canada in the Commonwealth," a book written by Sir Robert Borden. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Any congestion in the chest is dangerous! The best thing you can do is apply the heat of plain red peppers. Nature has put into red peppers a peculiar kind of heat that is at once penetrating and soothing. Without hurting you, this heat seems to reach the "tightness" and restore free circulation. That means the end of any chest cold. This marvelous red peppers' heat is contained in Jager's form in Rowie's Red Pepper Rub, a delightful "rub" made from the real red peppers. Rub it on at the first sign of a chest cold. All druggists sell Red Pepper Rub in convenient jars. Be sure it's Rowie's. (Adv.)

Registration For Conference Here To Open Monday

Local Delegates to Pay Fee For Sessions of Educational Conference

Registration of Victoria delegates to the fourth triennial conference of the National Council of Education will be held here from April 5 to 7 and in Vancouver April 8 to 15, will open on Monday at 10 a.m. in the Parliament Buildings and close at noon on the following Saturday.

The registration fee, both of delegates and members, for the entire conference is $2.50. For those, however, desiring to take advantage only of the Victoria programme the registration fee is $1.50, which provides for seats at the Royal Victoria Theatre at all sessions.

It should be pointed out that local branches of Dominion organizations are entitled to two official delegates, all other organizations to one. In order to provide for out-of-town members the number of places allotted to Vancouver is limited. No limit, however, is placed on the registration of members in Victoria who wish to attend the entire conference. The capacity of the Vancouver Theatre being limited, early application is urged.

LOCAL PROGRAMME
According to present plans, the Victoria programme will include a brief opening address by H. E. the Governor-General and by the Hon. Henry Cockburn on the Saturday evening, followed by an address by Sir Rabindra Nath Tagore on "A Philosophy of Love."

On Friday afternoon Major R. Jarman, director of physical instruction for the city of Leeds, will give an address on "Education for Health," which is to be illustrated by a group of boys and girls from the Victoria schools specially trained under the direction of Major Jarman.

On Friday evening an exhibition film or an address by Professor L. P. Bush, director of the Indian Chamber of Princes, followed by a reception in the Parliament Buildings, will complete the programme. Should it be found possible to provide for the address by Professor Bushbrook Williams, his subject will be illustrated by a series of specially-prepared slides on the great educational buildings of India.

Fairfield Church Women Active In Mission Work

Some Fairfield United Church activities for March included a successful silver tea, convened by the Women's Association at which there was a sale of useful home-made articles. A good musical and literary programme was rendered. Miss Percy giving solos. Mrs. Roberts recitations and Miss Fullerton told the story of her trip from Lausanne, Switzerland, to Novi-Sad in Yugoslavia, where she spent four months among the Serbs and Croats.

Twenty women interested in mission work answered the roll call for the monthly meeting of the W.M.S. The devotional exercises were conducted by Miss Armstrong, a short Scripture reading, followed by prayer. The recording secretary and the treasurer gave encouraging reports of the previous month's work.

Mrs. Beaven gave a few minutes' talk on prohibition, in which she censured the making of home-made wine and cordials, urging the women to be aware of the temptations they were placing before their own and neighbors' children.

Another chapter in the study book was reviewed by Mrs. Percy, who told of the work of the first Congregational missionaries in the African village of Chisambra, then a cluster of mud huts, now a thriving up-to-date town with school hospital and church. The hospital was built by the natives. The work is now carried on by men and

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

Mrs. Eldered will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

COLIC
Colic is the doubling-up pain incident to indigestion in the infant. All babies, poor dears, are more or less subject to it, and the weaker they are the more inclined they are to have colic. One can try to avoid it by giving the baby regular meals, by not overfeeding him, and by keeping him comfortably warm and quiet after a meal. Spoonful doses of hot water, a hot water bottle on the abdomen and sufficient changes of the baby's position to encourage belching will bring relief by helping up (or out) the gas that is causing the pains. If the colic comes on long after a meal, the gas pains are best helped by an enema of warm water, plus the hot water bag.

THE OVERFED BABY
If the baby's colic spell comes on regularly at about 7 o'clock at night and lasts until the next feeding, there are two possible reasons. In the case of the baby making large gains in weight, colic is usually caused by the rebellion of his stomach at the vast quantities of food forced on it during a day of feeding. This overfed baby has one spell and then sleeps all night.

THE HUNGRY BABY
The hungry baby may be fairly satisfied with his rations during the early feeding periods, but the 6 p.m. one is a notoriously scanty one, with most mothers, and so he cries until it is time to be fed again at 10 p.m.

Boys suffer no more from colic than girls (though some readers think so), for colic is no respecter of sexes. Colic is always an indication of something wrong with the diet, something that needs changing and correcting. One must in every possible way, no matter how small, try to remedy present conditions. The baby should not be allowed to suffer colic.

NOTE RATE OF GAIN
There is one fairly safe way of determining whether a baby is gaining properly. Weigh the baby at the same time each week. There is one fairly safe way of determining whether a baby is gaining properly.

THOREAU'S ODD LIFE EXPLAINED
Reason For Writer's Two-year Hermitage in Woods Shown By Prof. Wilcox

Speaking on Henry D. Thoreau, whom he called one of the most original writers ever born in the United States, Prof. F. H. Wilcox, A.B., Ph.D., delivered one of the most entertaining addresses heard by the University Extension Association during its season at Victoria College last night.

In "Walden," Thoreau's greatest work, the lecturer found many characteristics of the writer which set him apart from other men. In the story of Thoreau's life in the woods the man's desire for solitude, his great love for and adaptability to nature and his keen enjoyment of the outdoors is illustrated. The book also shows the

New Canadians Demonstrate Art Of Old Country

Handicrafts and Folk Music of Europe Thrill Crowds at Regina

Regina, Sask., March 22—Mounted police are on duty at the Hotel Saskatchewan to keep back crowds who are thronging to view the exhibits of Canadian handicrafts. The hall and rotunda of the hotel have been filled with man and woman garbed in white linen shirts, velvet coats and voluminous neckerchiefs, and sounds such as must have been heard in the Tower of Babel come from every corner in awesome admiration of the artistry displayed. Indians stand silent for the most part before the highly-colored embroidery of the Hungarian, but other nationalities are voicing in loud tones their opinion of their neighbors' work, and in corners later compare notes and arrive at conclusions which they deem will improve their own stichery.

Yesterday afternoon the folk tea provided too many thrills for description. Hungarian dancers, men and women from Kipling, Sask., and Regina, gave fine samples of the steps of the peasantry from the shores of the Danube, while two Germans from Regina gave a dance of the Bavarian countryside, during which the audience was shouting with glee with the performers.

Selma Johnson Decoster's performance, more informal than her singing last night, was greatly enjoyed. Her choice of Swedish folk songs has been well made and varied according to Swedish provinces, giving the listeners a splendid opportunity to study the differing styles. Roumanian songs will be sung to-night by a local choir, while folk dancers from Limerick and Wheatstone will perform.

Czechs from the settlement at Glen-side will sing in quartette and Slovak dancers from Regina will add interest. The famous Dudelsack of Serbia will be among the quaint instruments used to-night, accompanying the folk dances and songs of the Yugoslavs. Paul Bat, the Danish baritone from Toronto, will make his first appearance to-night in the Viking songs, which he introduced to Canadian audiences at Vancouver last January.

Why do we always say, "Well, come let's get the dishes done so that we can do something else?" Why not enjoy doing the dishes? It is the spirit that makes so many tasks irksome—the idea is driven home that they are tasks to be gotten out of the way in order that we may get at something more pleasant. Washing dishes is just as pleasant as any task, if done rightly—hot water, plenty of soap, clean dry towels, etc. Let us enjoy the little things of life—the little duties. We hurry so many things in order to get to something which we anticipate with joy only to realize that we have slighted them, got no satisfaction from the doing of them and then are disappointed after all in the things to which we looked forward.

man's unbending honesty and freedom from conventionalities. All these characteristics were reflections of Thoreau's private life, the lecturer continued. Following a usual childhood in a small country town and an uneventful college career at Harvard, he developed into a different man when he had completed his scholastic education. In his early trade as a pencil maker his oddity first manifested itself, the speaker said. After manufacturing a product that was infinitely superior to any other pencil, Thoreau seemed to be satisfied with his work and left his trade as a pencil maker.

At an early stage in his life he decided not to enter the competitive business world since he considered this occupation too stultifying, the lecturer stated. Since his life was so well ordered and his requirements so simple, Thoreau had little need of fortune, but could live for a year on what he earned by his hands in six weeks, Prof. Wilcox continued. He applied himself to no business, but lived as an odd job man, surviving for two years in the household of Waldo Emerson.

LIFE IN THE WOODS
At the age of thirty-two he withdrew from society and built himself a cabin in the woods at a cost of $27. There he remained for two years simply hoeing his bean patch and gorging in the spirit of nature.

In speaking of his attitude to nature, Prof. Wilcox stated that Thoreau did not look upon it as a picture, a teacher or a symbol, as many poets had done, but considered it the most pleasant environment for the unsplendid human being.

Of his other writings than "Walden," the speaker noted his journals as the most interesting. These were written in a fresh lucid style that made them very enjoyable reading, he added. Another point of interest touched during the lecture, was Thoreau's introduction of Eastern philosophy into United States literature.

LITTLE KNOWN
As a man Thoreau was too austere and uncompromising to make many friends and when he died, in 1862, he was known only to a very limited circle of readers. Since that time, however, Prof. Wilcox said, his popularity has been increasing and his writings have been enjoyed by a much larger reading public than many of those of authors popular at Thoreau's time.

A. B. Sanders thanked Prof. Wilcox for his interesting address.

OAK BAY ROSE SOCIETY MEETS

Rose Show Set For June 22;
Dr. W. P. Walker Re-elected President

Dr. W. P. Walker, Oak Bay, was re-elected president of the Oak Bay Rose Society last evening, at the annual meeting of the organization, when officers were chosen and the date set for the annual rose show.

The rose show will be held on June 22 at the Crystal Gardens, and in this connection the exhibition committee pointed out that rose bushes should be pruned not later than some time during next week.

Other officers chosen at the meeting, which was held in the High School auditorium, included an executive committee of Judge P. S. Lampman, H. R. Beaven, C. J. Prior, C. C. Tunard, Gordon Downes and M. R. Jamieson. David Reid, honorary secretary, and E. E. Stonham, honorary treasurer, will continue in office for the new term.

The annual reports showed that the society had grown considerably in membership, and had a small surplus at the end of its fiscal year.

Langford

The Women's Institute will meet on Tuesday, March 26, at 2 o'clock at the hall, Dunford Road. Miss Pollock of the Victoria Public Library, will speak on books, and a demonstration of rug making will be given by Mrs. George Aikman. Visitors will be welcomed.

Lorne Rogers is a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Holy Communion will be celebrated at St. Matthew's Church on Sunday at 8 a.m. and at morning service at 11 a.m.

The Women's Institute card party, held on Wednesday night, was most amusing. Many guests were old-fashioned dresses, and much of the jewelry was over fifty years old. Guests attended from Victoria, Royal Oak, Happy Valley, Luxton and Colwood. Fourteen tables of cards were played, C. F. Smith being master of ceremonies. Winners for progressive court whist were: Mrs. A. Dresser, Mrs. J. Kerr, Mrs. Reid and William Bartle. Consolation prizes were won by Mrs. W. Bartle and William Guy. The grand march of the ladies in fancy dress caused much amusement, and J. Stuart Yates, as judge, had great difficulty in selecting prize winners. Mrs. H. G. Kelly won the award for the most graceful style of long ago; Mrs. T. Madders won the prize for the oldest old-fashioned costume, and Mrs. John Trace received the consolation award with her humorous bridal costume. Mrs. J. Stuart Yates was presented with pink carnations by the president, Mrs. James L. Brown. Refreshments were served by the members of the committee assisted by friends. Visitors present from Victoria were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Terry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Dalby, Mrs. J. Hogg and Miss Dalby. ## Colwood

A special meeting of the Colwood Women's Institute was held Wednesday afternoon in Colwood Hall. Resolution regarding health unit was discussed, and the meeting decided the matter should be left in the hands of the ratepayers.

The president, Miss Kelly, gave an interesting talk on St. Patrick. Many interesting details concerning the life of the saint were appreciated by an attentive audience.

Mrs. A. Godfrey gave a two-minute talk on her birthplace, Gateshead-on-Tyne, England.

An amusing guessing competition, in which the names of towns in Ireland appeared in jumbled fashion, was won by Mrs. T. W. Spencer.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames J. J. Martin and W. M. Brown.

St. Aidan's will play the Colwood football team Saturday afternoon at Colwood. This will no doubt prove the decisive game for the Canadian Legion (Prince Edward branch) Shield.

A number of Colwood residents, dressed in old-fashioned costumes, attended the very successful masquerade card party held by the Langford Women's Institute Wednesday evening.

Sensation Is Caused In Amateur Hockey By "No Game" Ruling

Trail, B.C. Champions, Play Unregistered Player Against Port Arthur and, After Winning 6-1, Officials Throw Game Out; Teams Will Meet in "Sudden Death" Game at Winnipeg to Decide Western Canada Champions; Smoke-Eaters Appear Far Better Team Than Ports and Should Win Title.

Winnipeg, March 22—One of the greatest sensations ever caused in Western hockey circles occurred here early this morning when Canadian Amateur Hockey Association authorities announced that last night's semi-final Allan Cup match between Trail and Port Arthur, which the former won 6-1, had been declared "no game" due to the playing of an ineligible player.

With this sensational turn of events it was also announced by Fred Marples, secretary of the association, that the Western final of the senior hockey series would be decided in a "sudden death" game here Saturday night between Trail and Port Arthur.

Howard Anderson, snappy defence man of the Trail Smoke-Eaters, was the player declared to be ineligible. It was disclosed that, despite a warning he played in last night's game without a registration card. Anderson, 1928 captain of the Trail team, had not played hockey during the regular season but was pressed into service on short notice to play in the Trail-High River series when two other players of the British Columbia champions had been declared ineligible for Allan Cup play.

MANAGER DIDN'T KNOW
R. B. Dimmock, manager of the Trail team, this morning denied knowledge of the fact that Anderson was without a card and stated he did not know his player was unregistered until advised so by Mr. Marples. It is understood that the match was played under protest, pending a ruling of Jack Hamilton of Regina, vice-president of the C.A.H.A. and in charge of Western Allan Cup play-downs.

Mr. Marples communicated with Mr. Hamilton and received his ruling at 2 o'clock this morning and immediately advised the Ports and Trail officials of the "no game" decision. Mr. Hamilton wired:
"Fred Marples, Winnipeg: You telephoned me that Smith, secretary of the B.C. Hockey Association, wired you that Anderson of Trail team unregistered. Understand you ordered manager not to play him and that he played. If facts are as stated, I must order that game be thrown out and Anderson withdrawn from further competition."

Calgary, March 22—Harry Scott, who officiated for the Trail-High River series in Calgary, states that prior to the first game here, player H. D. Anderson displayed a British Columbia registration card No. 164. Before the second game, A. B. King, acting president of the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association, upon receipt of word from the British Columbia association that Anderson was ineligible, personally investigated the situation and upon receipt of the registration card declared him eligible.

Upsets Seen In Bowling

Jimmy Leiper and F. J. Byng Eliminated From Singles In Carpet Tourney

After defeating Jimmy Leiper, four times winner of the Byng Shield, and general favorite for the singles title, L. Nelson went under before the bowling of P. Saunders in a game which ended in a 16-13 count, in one of the upsets of the Capital City and District League bowling tournament at the Crystal Garden last night.

P. J. Byng, another veteran bowler, was eliminated by Colvin by a 15-9 score. Colvin reached the semi-final with a 15-5 victory over Reid.

CLOSE MATCHES

HEADS CAPITALS

ART MINNIS
who was elected president of the Victoria Capitals' Baseball Club at a recent meeting.

College to Seek Title

Ruggers Leave For Vancouver To-night; Will Meet Rowing Club at Brockton Pt.

Victoria College ruggers, intermediate city champions, will journey to Vancouver on the midnight boat in quest of provincial glory at Brockton Point to-morrow. The local boys will clash with the Rowing Club, Vancouver intermediate champions, in a sudden-death game for the British Columbia title.

Local rugby enthusiasts who saw the Rowing Club defeat Brentwood College here during the season, realize that the city champions will be up against stiff opposition in their game in Vancouver. The barmen sent victory intermediates down to a 6-3 defeat in the final for the Terminal City championship. College had no difficulty in running through the U.B.C. players in their game here in January and consequently feel that they should be able to defeat the Rowing Club.

HARD GAME EXPECTED

Although Vancouver rugby is considerably rougher than the game played in this city, the College fifteen is composed of rugged players who should be able to stand hard play.

The local players themselves are quite confident that they will return with a victory and their record here every ground for this confidence.

The college team is expected to line up as follows: Des Patterson "Chuck" Burton, Dave Elliot, Gil McMillan, Gav. Hume, "Gubby" Brown, Bruce Low, Albert Montesi, Vic. Rogers, "Chuck" Lendrum, Exson Young, Geoff. D'Arcy, Luke Walton, Roy Macdonald, and "Chuck" Hayward.

Saanich Thisles To Meet Mainland Eleven To-morrow

To meet South Hill eleven of Vancouver in the first round of the Province Cup soccer series, the Saanich Thisles will leave for the Mainland City to-night for their match to-morrow.

The Thisles will stack up against a team of the same type of soccer as themselves. The South Hill team were well known for their kick and rush tactics.

The following players will make the trip:
Rodger, Joe Crowe, Harper, Armistead, Viggers, Jim Crowe, Rickinson, Price, Easter, Minnie and Ewing.

"Dusty" Miller Is Winner By a K.O.

Vallejo, Cal., March 22—"Dusty" Miller of Victoria, B.C., knocked out Walter "Bill" Hoffman of Napa in the seventh round of a ten-round bout here last night. Both heavies were fairly even until Miller got over a hook to the body and then snapped over the knock-out punch to the jaw.

Louisville Ky., March 22—Tommy West, forty-seven, former prizefighter, promoter and sports writer, died here yesterday.

In his fighting days he was known as "Louisville Tommy" and the late John Pierpont Morgan is said to have aided him.

Art Minnis Named Head of Capitals

Popular Ball Player Will Guide B.C. Senior "B" Champs This Season

Club Will Enter Island League; Murty Dunn Elected Playing Manager

Art Minnis, one of the classiest ball players Victoria has ever produced, and an all-round athlete, was elected president of the Victoria Capitals Baseball Club at a meeting held recently. Dr. Allan Fraser was named as vice-president and Waldo Skillings secretary-treasurer.

Last season Art was one of the mainstays of the Capitals, playing a good brand of ball all year. He has played with a number of crack local teams and was with the one which they won the British Columbia championship. The Capitals competed in the Island League last season and won the championship. Art was playing manager of the defeated Britannia Mines in the finals for the British Columbia Senior "B" honors. The Caps will enter the Island loop again this year and hope to repeat their last year's success.

Murtie Dunn, popular little second baseman and outfielder of the Caps last season, has been named playing manager. He has experience and should be able to build up a strong club. Doug Meyer will be manager of the club.

HAVE SAME TEAM

The B.C. champions will have practically all of last year's players back in the fold this season. Among the players who will turn out with them are Norm Forbes and Jimmy Dangerfield, two of the best pitchers in the city, Art Webster, Herb Cummins, Ross Oatman, Jack McKenzie, Tommy Wechter, besides considerable new material.

The complete list of officers of the club follows: Honorary president, Mayor Albert Apocomb; secretary-treasurer, Waldo Skillings; playing manager, Murtie Dunn; secretary-treasurer, Dr. Allan Fraser; vice-president, Arthur Minnis; vice-president, Dr. Allan Fraser; secretary-treasurer, Waldo Skillings; playing manager, Murtie Dunn; manager, Doug Meyer; business manager, Ross Oatman; executive, Alex Straith, Jack Curtis, Tommy Bowden, and Cy Miller, delegate to Island League, Jimmy Williams.

Football Officials And Council Members Inspect Soccer Field

The proposed football ground at Heywood Avenue, Beacon Hill Park, was the subject of a tour this morning by Mayor Anson, Aldermen John Harvey and Parks Superintendent T. R. Purdy, in company with officials of the Lower Island Football Association. The council has ratified a start on the creation of a full-sized playing field, estimated at $4,000. A statement by Alderman Harvey that it would cost between $4,000 and $5,000 to put oil grounds in condition—was misinterpreted to mean that $4,000 would be spent at Heywood Avenue, which is incorrect, it is explained.

Police Graft Inquiry Held In Seattle

Seattle, March 22.—Indications of wholesale police graft were revealed at a hearing filled with contradictions and reputations when the civil service commission looked into the dismissal of Patrolman George A. Huntley here last night.

Testimony revolved about the acceptance of a watch from R. W. Jackson February 19 as security for a $50
bribe. Both Huntley and Patrolman George Reynolds had been accused of the attempted extortion, for which Huntley was dismissed.

Jackson testified that when he approached Jimmie John, manager of the garage where the watch was left, to redeem it, John said: "I don't know just what case you're talking about.
We had four cases like that that morning."

John, questioned at the hearing about the incident, said he was drunk that morning and could not remember what he had told Jackson.

and resulted as follows: President,
Alec. Thompson, re-elected; vice-president, Alec. MacDonald; secretary,

Grain Exports Steadily Grow

Prairie Pool Manager States at Inquiry B.C. Ports' Total Greatly Increasing

Winnipeg, March 22.—Within ten days or two weeks the interim report of the Saskatchewan Grain Inquiry Commission probably will be forwarded to Ottawa, it was intimated when the session opened here to-day.

When the findings are returned the commission will go west for one month and then return east.

To-day George McIvor, general sales manager of the Wheat Pool, continued on the stand. Cross-examined, he stated the Pool sold some grain on sample. This process in general he did not approve.

The Pool also did some mixing, he said.

Although most of the sales dealt with grades from one to six, the witness testified some 276 grades had been delivered from the 1925-27 crop.

The witness was asked what he thought of the proposal that Alberta and western Saskatchewan grain for export by the British Columbia Coast route should be separated from the Eastern or lake terminal movement as to condition and grades.

He said he would not favor anything of the kind. At present, he said, two-thirds of the Alberta grain went to Pacific ports, but if railway improvements should continue all of it would soon be moved westward for export through British Columbia ports.

Rivers Flood Great Areas

Quincy, Ill., March 22.—The swollen Mississippi, struggling with the heavy spring flow from its tributaries, broke through the second levee of the Indian Creek drainage district to-day and inundated 12,000 additional acres of corn and wheatland.

It was the second break in less than twenty-four hours and put approximately 20,000 acres of rich land under an average of seven feet of water.

With millions of gallons of water pouring in through the two breaks, patrols fought to keep dikes of sand 50,000 additional surrounding acres from giving way. Eight hundred homes would be in the flood path if the levees of the Mark and Fabius districts across the river in Missouri, the Lima Lake region to the north and the South Quincy district, should give way.

WOULD IMPOSE HOSPITAL TAX

John L. Hill Advances Plan to Lighten Unequal Burden in Country Districts

Pioneer Settled in Cariboo Country Over Twenty Years Ago

Imposition of a hospital tax in all country districts of the province to effectively equalize the burden in the same category, said Mr. Hill in a speech before the Cariboo Automobile Association and secretary of the Cariboo Hospital Board.

It is in the latter capacity that he is visiting Victoria to-day.

"Hospitals are just as necessary as schools and they should be placed in the same category," said Mr. Hill in explaining that his mission here was to urge a provincial tax for hospitals.

Although his representations are being made to members of the Government in the Cariboo territory, president of the Cariboo Automobile Association and secretary of the Cariboo Hospital Board.

Such a tax, he argued, would catch the man who at present pays nothing and would ease the burden on those settlers who are willing to contribute and who submit to a voluntary assessment to an unfair degree.

Realtors Talk On Advertising

Ethics of Sale Methods Are Discussed By Board at Luncheon

Ethics of real estate advertising and its effect upon the public were topics of discussion at the meeting of the Real Estate Board of Victoria held in Spencer's dining-room to-day. Major Cuthbert Holmes, the president, presided.

"Just here for a few days' golf," said C. T. Jaffray, president of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, after he had registered at the Empress Hotel this afternoon from the South.

Mr. Jaffray and a party of influential business men reached the city by the 1:15 o'clock boat from Seattle.

The others were Frank T. Heflinger, Cavour S. Langdon, F. J. Patton and Alfred Pillsbury of Minneapolis, and William H. McWilliams of Winnipeg. They came north from California.

After playing the local courses the party plan to go north to inspect the plant of the Powell River Pulp and Paper Company.

The bunch were filled with keen delight. "How great to see the broad daylight, when they had been lost in cave for days, and days, and days. 'Oh, look,' cried Clowny, 'down below is where I'd really like to go. I see some lovely fields of green where cattle likely graze.'"

"Just think! If we can find a cow, we'll get a milk somehow, and then we'll hunt for berries. They will make a dandy meal. We haven't had a bite I guess, for many days. I'm in distress. I never realized before how hungry one can feel."

"Sometimes," snapped Scouty, "you are rude. You never think of a thing but food. I'd like to see that valley too, but not to merely eat. The grass looks tempting, I'll admit, and that's just where I'd like to sit. To loaf around for 'bout an hour would be a wondrous treat."

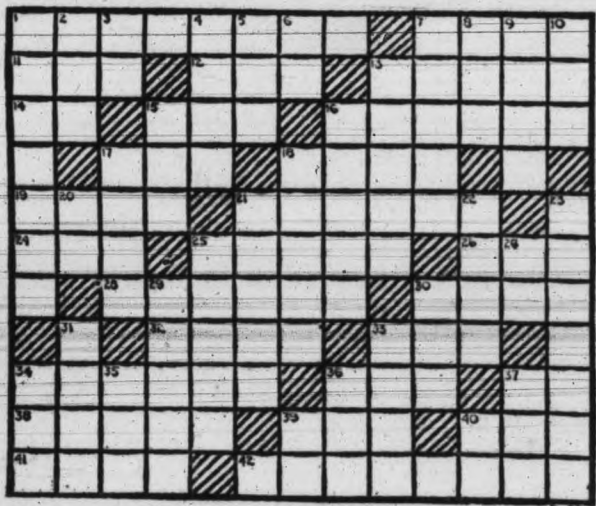

A coal man then spoke up and said, "Well, come on, lads, let's go ahead. There is no sense in staying here. Who's game to follow me?" "I am," yelled Coppy, "right away." And then he stopped and shouted, "Say! How we are going to get down there is what I cannot see."

The little coal man loudly roared, "Leave that to me, boys! Hop aboard our funny little cave car and we'll have a speedy trip. If you will all hang on real tight, I know that all will be all right. Don't try to climb up on the edge or you will likely slip."

So, when they all were sitting tight, the coal man, pushed with all his might, and down the hill the coal car went. It almost brought a scare. But Mister Coal Man had the knack of keeping it upon the track, and not a thing went wrong as they went sailing through the air.

To-morrow's Horoscope

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1929
Benefic aspects rule strongly to-day, according to astrology which finds the planetary government most fortunate for inhabitants of the earth. It is a day in which to push all constructive work and to enter into ambitious enterprises. Architects and builders should be especially fortunate under this direction of the stars which seems to promise stupendous projects in many cities.

This is a time of supreme opportunity, the seers declare, for those who recognize psychical moments in their careers. Engineers of every branch of the profession including those who specialize on bridges may expect great activity and large profits. While this direction of the stars prevails both men and women should look forward and not backward, daring to undertake tasks that appear too great to accomplish. Commerce is subject to the most wonderful growth, expansion of trade being indicated where it has been little expected. New leaders are to arise in all branches of business as well as all lines of professional activity. It is prophesied. This is a day when parents may be especially indulgent in granting the demands of their children, for they will have more understanding of youth than is common in ordinary circumstances. Lawyers should benefit from this rule of the stars which presages much litigation concerning corporations. Children born on this day probably will be industrious and self-contained. These subjects of Aries who are on the cusp are usually kind, helpful and well balanced. They have the power to achieve success through wise and constructive methods. Persons whose birthdate it is have the surer of a year of much happiness and success, although they may have certain unusual anxieties.

had no word of any cases of meningitis on the President Jackson though she is known to be carrying a number of Filipinos.

CAUSED BY CROWDING

Speaking to-day on the cause and spread of the disease, Dr. Price stated that it was found to be a concomitant with crowding where persons were kept huddled together for long periods of time. Spinal meningitis was one of the worst scourges of military hospitals during the war, and took a heavy toll of victims under the crowded conditions of army establishments on active service, especially in the wet and colder parts of the year. It is spread through carriers, or intermediaries, and not by direct contact, states Dr. Price.

OTTAWA ADVISED

antine Station are keeping in touch with Ottawa regarding the situation in general but have received no special instructions. Their course of action is governed by international regulations on which quarantine stations act in such an emergency.

In the case of Canadian boats calling at British Columbia ports from the Orient advice is being obtained by wireless as to the number of cases on board if any. If the disease is prevalent, both those suffering from it and those who have been in contact with them will be taken off and held at the William Head station. There is accommodation for five hundred patients at the station.

Wireless advice from the Empress of Russia, due Saturday, is to the effect that she is free from the disease. The Russia is carrying a large number of Filipinos in the steerage. The Admiral Jackson, due Monday, being a United States line boat, may carry her passengers direct to Seattle. It is reported that 350 passengers, off the last Oriental liner calling at Seattle have been quarantined in the Marine Hospital at Port Townsend.

Capt. Aikman Here to Meet Empress Liner

Precautions Taken in Connection With Pending Arrival of Filipinos From Manila

C. C. Blaney Will Speak on World Cruise Before Usadians To-night

In the vanguard of Canadian Pacific Railway officials, who will meet the liner Empress of Russia, due tomorrow from the Orient, Capt. E. Aikman, manager of the trans-Pacific service of Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited, reached the city to-day from Vancouver.

The Empress of Russia, in addition to her cabin lists, carries a large contingent of Filipinos in her steerage space, and in view of the development of spinal meningitis aboard American Mail Line boats, special precautions are being taken in connection with the arrival of the Empress of Russia.

No cases of disease have been reported on the inbound liner.

Among other world officials arriving here to-day was Charles C. Blaney, traveling passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited.

To-night Mr. Blaney will give an illustrated address on "A Cruise Around the World," before the Usadians Club here.

Mr. Blaney has cruised the world aboard one of the Canadian Pacific "Empress" liners and will give a personal touch to the address.

The illustrated cruise will start at Victoria and include all the most interesting countries of the world.

AORANGI SAILS FROM HONOLULU FOR THIS PORT

Bound for Victoria and Vancouver with passengers and cargo, the Canadian-Australasian motor liner Aorangi sailed from Honolulu this morning for this port, according to advance schedule in the hands of L. D. Chetham, local agent.

The big vessel is expected here next Friday morning, or with good weather conditions will probably make port on Thursday night as the liners from the south seas have been doing for the last three or four trips. The local agent will be advised regarding this by wireless from the captain of the liner sometime next week.

It is expected here that the Aorangi will bring in a fairly heavy passenger list this trip, as the trend of travel at this season of the year is routed from the Antipodes to England, where a large number of residents of the southern Dominion spend the summer months.

Next week's arrival will also bring in a large number of people returning to their homes in Canada and the United States after spending the winter months in Honolulu.

The Aorangi left Sydney three weeks ago to-day, and since that time has called at, besides Honolulu, Suva and Auckland.

BIDS EXCEED ESTIMATES

Matson Company Will Call New Bids as Those Received More Than Expected

San Francisco, March 22.—Bids for the construction of two lines for the San Francisco-Australian service of the Matson Line, which were opened here, were found yesterday by company officials to far exceed the amount estimated the ships would cost. Four bids were submitted, with that of the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation being the lowest. This figure was approximately $1,500,000 more than the company estimated. It is expected that the specifications will be revised and now bids called for.

When the Matson liner Sonoma arrived here yesterday from Australia, Captain W. E. Bell, master of the liner, stepped down from the bridge after having completed his last voyage as the ship's master. The Sonoma was said from here to the South Sea on her next voyage with Capt. Thomas P. McManis, former first officer of the Sierra, in command.

C. Wulfrat, of the New York office of the Holland-America Line, will succeed J. Van Mours in the local offices of the company at the end of next month. E. F. De Lanoy, Pacific Coast manager of the line announced yesterday, Van Mours resigned to become manager here for the Blue Star Line.

MADISON WILL SAIL OUTBOUND TO THE ORIENT

American Mail Liner Will Take Good Passenger List to Far East To-morrow

With a good passenger list for this season of the year, the American Mail liner Madison will sail from the Rithet piers here to-morrow evening at 6 o'clock, for ports in China, Japan and the Philippine Islands.

According to present schedule the Madison will leave Seattle at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning and with favorable tidal conditions in the Sound will arrive alongside the Rithet piers at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. She will remain two hours to pick up local cargo, passengers and mails before putting to sea at 6 o'clock.

Yokohama, her first port of call in the Orient, which she will reach after eleven days' steaming across the Pacific Ocean.

While in Seattle the Madison was docked at the Todd Yards for cleaning and painting and general overhaul. Her previous accommodation was also overhauled and fumigated.

PROMINENT PASSENGERS

Among the passengers who will take passage on the Madison to-morrow will be Edmund O. Clubb, who with Mrs. Clubb will be taken off and held at the William Head station. There is accommodation for five hundred patients at the station.

DR. ALFRED SZE DUE IN VICTORIA

Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to the United States, who is arriving on the Coast next week from Washington, D.C., is expected to pass through Victoria on March 30 en route to China by the liner Empress of Russia.

Dr. Sze, who has been appointed Chinese Ambassador to Great Britain, is returning home before taking over his diplomatic office in London.

TWO ORIENT LINERS DUE

Empress of Russia and Iyo Maru Expected at Quarantine Early To-morrow

Two deep-sea passenger liners are expected here early to-morrow morning from ports in the Orient, according to latest word received in the city from the respective masters of the two ships.

The first liner to appear will probably be the Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of Russia, which is expected at the William Head Quarantine Station at 5 o'clock from China, Japan and the Philippine Islands. This liner will bring the big white liner to the Rithet piers shortly before 7 o'clock and it is expected that she will be ready to sail for Vancouver by 9 o'clock.

For this port the Russia has eighty tons of general cargo, while several passengers will disembark here, notably a large contingent of Filipinos destined to the United States.

Fifty-eight of this party will leave for California on Sunday morning aboard the liner Dorothy Alexander, while nearly 300 will leave for Seattle to-morrow afternoon aboard the regular C.P.R. steamer. The Russia is bringing in a heavy passenger list including ninety in the first cabin.

Also from China and Japan, the W.K. liner Iyo Maru is expected at the Rithet piers at 5 o'clock. She will berth at the Rithet piers shortly before 8 o'clock to discharge 100 tons of general cargo and disembark six steamer passengers. The liner will proceed to Seattle about 10 o'clock with a heavy general cargo including a valuable parcel of raw silk for shipment to Eastern United States silk markets.

Seattle, March 22.—With production during the past week ended March 16, orders for lumber during the first ten weeks of 1929 exceeded production by 13.5 per cent and shipments were two-tenths of one per cent more than cutting, reports to the West Coast Lumbermen's Association revealed to-day. ## SEINE NETS MADE HERE

Canadian Packing Corporation Preparing For Busy Summer Fishing Season.

Preparatory to commencing their summer work towards the end of May, the fishing boats of the Canadian Packing Corporation are now being cleaned and painted and made ready for what is expected to be a busy and lengthy season. Two of the boats are already fishing while four are being fixed up for the summer months.

Making a change from other years, the seine nets used in the industry off the coast are being made in Victoria, instead of at the C.P.C. plant in Esquimaux Inlet on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. These nets are being made in one of the sheds at Ogden Point and two of the larger fishing vessels are also tied up there for their annual overhaul. This work will take until about the middle of May.

The two ships at Ogden Point, anchored in the sheltered cove formed by the breakwater are the Ribac and the Amale. The Amale during February was employed in bringing herring from Prince Rupert to Nanaimo. She made several trips in this capacity. The Ribac recently returned from a trip to Esquimaux Inlet. Both ships are now being cleaned and painted and the engines are being given a thorough overhaul.

Two other ships of the fleet, the Canadac and the Grandac are tied up at a wharf in the upper Inner Harbor. They will probably be brought to Ogden Point for their cleaning and painting.

The other two vessels of the fleet, the Victorac and the Lewac are at present engaged in fishing and taking their catches to Vancouver for disposal. The Victorac is halibut fishing off the West Coast while the Lewac is engaged in trolling in the Strait.
